He became assistant secretary-treasurer of the old Municipal District of Royal in 1926 and secretary-treasurer in 1935. In 1943, when the enlarged M.D. of Vulcan was formed, he was appointed secretary-treasurer and continued in that position until the formation of the County and his present appointment.

Mr. McQueen is assisted in his work by J. H. S. Moffitt, former secretary-treasurer of the Macleod Municipal Hospital, engaged last year as assistant secretary-treasurer of the County of Vulcan. The other members of the office staff are Mrs. C. E. Yoemans and Miss Laura Bucher.

Mr. Hugh Wilson is superintendent of all schools in the County.

Town Tax Rate Shows Increase of Three Mills

1952 tax rate for the Town of Vulcan was set at 53 mills at the regular council meeting held Monday evening of this week. This is an increase of three mills over last year's rate and is made up as follows: School 25 mills, Hospital 5 mills, Municipal 23 mills. The town still qualifies for the conditional three mills grant from the provincial government.

Last year's rate of 50 mills comprised the following: School 22, Hospital 5, Municipal 22.

The rates are based on 100 per cent assessed value of land, buildings and improvements.

Estimates for the year 1952 were reviewed and approved. Revision of salaries of town employees was approved by the council and provision made for contributions to the Rest Room of $300, to the Library of $100, and the Memorial Swimming Pool of $150.

Two readings were given a by-law authorizing the town council to provide for civil defence or disaster. This by-law empowers the council, subject to the approval of the Minister of Municipal Affairs, to borrow, levy, appropriate or expend, without the consent of the proprietary electors, certain sums for civil defence and disaster purposes.

Building Permits
The following applications for building permits were granted, subject to the approval of the building inspector:

Will Borrow $14,800
By-law No. 275 was given three readings and passed. This by-law provides for the borrowing of the sum of $14,800 under the terms of the Self-Liquidating Projects Act to cover costs of additional equipment and work on the water system.

Proprietary electors of the town will vote on the by-law Monday, May 19, with voting taking place from 1 a.m. to 7 p.m. Edna M. Farr was appointed returning officer.

Approve Trade Licence Application
The secretary was instructed to write the Department of Trade and Industry recommending that the application of Joseph Simon for a trade licence be granted.

Mayor W. D. Allan presided at the meeting and Councillors Morrison, McIntyre, Scotney, McAsikie and Scales were present.

Hear Talk On Missionaries

Mrs. Nelsie Robertson was hostess for the April meeting of the Candlelight Circle of the Church of Christ. Twenty members and two visitors were in attendance.

Roll call was answered by each member turning in crayons and pencils to be sent to Kulpaker mission in India.

Following a brief business period, the evening was spent in making plans for a bake sale and parcel post to be held May 17.

Mrs. Marion Stewart gave a talk on the missionaries in Jamaica and the meeting was brought to a close with a devotional thought brought by Mrs. Althea Love.

The social part of the evening was conducted by Mae Cole.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fern Scotney and Mrs. Inez Bogner.

Travers Pioneer Dies At Age 69

ORRIS JAY SCOTT

An early resident of the Travers district, where he homesteaded in 1910, Orris Jay Scott, aged 69, died at the Vulcan hospital on Sunday, April 20.

Born in 1882 in Boone County, Illinois, he moved to Manitoba in 1896 and in 1905 married Mabel Hulda Barber. That same year the couple moved west to Armstrong, B.C. and then in 1910 came to Alberta, homesteading at Travers. Mr. Scott farmed at Travers until retiring in 1943, when he moved to Vulcan.

Surviving are one brother, Robert, in Ontario; one sister, Jennie, in Manitoba; three sons, Walter of Edmonton and Arthur and Raymond of Vulcan; three daughters, Mrs. Harold Monsfield of Grande Prairie, Mrs. Chester Rea of Vulcan and Mrs. Ruth Orchard of Vulcan; and ten grandchildren. He was predeceased by his wife and one son.

Funeral services will be held from the Community Hall at Travers on Thursday, April 24, at 2:00 p.m. and will be conducted by Rev. J. S. Clarke of Vulcan. Pallbearers are William Jones of Vulcan and William Scott, Chris Erickson, Leonard Vanholm, Martin Fogerty and Ludwick Deluski, all of Travers.

Interment will be made in the family plot at Travers.

Building and Remodelling of Business Places

Construction of the new building for Joseph Simon of Lethbridge commenced last week and good progress is being made in laying the foundation. Location of the new building is on Vulcan Street between the Central Meat Market and the B.C. Tailors. The building permit is for $20,000 and it is understood the building will house a new grocery store.

The premises of Simpson & Son are now undergoing complete renovation. The workshop is being moved to the new warehouse built on their property last year and the original building fronting on Vulcan Street is being remodelled to serve as a showroom, with space for offices and a parts department.

Another business place undergoing remodelling is Lloyd's Jewellery, with the work in charge of Ed Roebuck. The store is being extended to occupy the full length of the building, a new floor being laid and the interior will be completely redecorated. A new, modern vitrolite front is planned and will add greatly to the appearance of the store.

Men Still Needed For Active Army

"There is a continuing need for a steady flow of good recruits to maintain expanded corps and units of the Canadian Army, both at home and overseas," Capt. Roy Jardine, Western Command Recruiting Officer, said on a periodic visit to Vulcan this week.

Capt. Jardine said the general response to special recruiting drives, particularly in the rural areas of Alberta, had been excellent. However, he pointed out that the Army now has more than 45,000 active force soldiers and that a large monthly intake is required to maintain this level and provide for rotation of troops abroad.

During the spring of this year the Army will be bringing home several thousand troops who have served one year in Korea. Similar rotation for troops now in Europe will take place next fall. To provide replacements for these men and ensure that no soldier is separated from his family for more than one year overseas the Army is seeking a regular flow of young men interested in a military career with the chance to serve in Europe or the Far East.

Vacancies exist in most all corps and trades of the Army. The greatest current need is for men

New Chamber for U.N. Security Council

This is a general view of the new Security Council chamber at United Nations Headquarters. Measuring 135 by 72 feet with 24-foot ceiling, the chamber is completely equipped with facilities for technical services, including simultaneous interpretation, press, radio and television booths. The Security Council chamber was designed by Arnstein Arneberg of Norway, whose government contributed some $15,000 for its decoration. Seating arrangements in the Security Council, as well as in the Trusteeship and the Economic and Social Council, will accommodate around 520 persons.

Wheat Dry, But Land Wet

Combines Fight Mud As Spring Harvest Proceeds

It looks more like fall than like spring in the Vulcan district right now, as on almost every farm combines are busy trying to finish last year's harvesting which was delayed by fall rains and then stopped completely by heavy snow falls.

Wheat being delivered to local elevators is reported to be very dry, with about 10 per cent moisture content, but much difficulty is being encountered in operating the heavy combines on land that is still water-soaked from the excessive moisture of last fall and the heavy runoff this spring.

East and south of town combining is general, but north and west many farmers early this week found their land still too wet to allow combines to operate successfully, even though it has been an early spring, with no snow or rain for the past two weeks or more.

The few farmers who were fortunate enough to complete their harvest last fall are now working the land preparatory to seeding. The weather was somewhat cooler on Monday, with overcast skies, but Wednesday was sunny and warm.

In the Infantry where they may join such famous Alberta units as the P.P.C.L.I. or Loyal Edmonton Regiment. Applicants should enquire at the local Army Information Centre for complete details.

Fair Will Be Held in August

Second Annual County Fair Contest List Now Distributed

The official program and contest list for Vulcan's second annual County Fair has now been printed and distributed. The fair will this year be held on Monday and Tuesday, August 4 and 5 and the contest list has been distributed early in order that entrants will have ample time to plan their entries.

The 28-page booklet is well supported by advertising of local firms and gives the program for each day of the fair and a complete list of entry classes.

Among the featured entries with special prizes is the spring beef calf competition, the flower show, grain exhibit, farm labor saving devices, best town or district float in the parade, best school entries, square dancing competition, etc.

Other entries include the children's pet show, boys' and girls' pony, open Palomino saddle horse, paintings, fabric paintings, petit point pictures, fancy work, knitting, handkerchiefs, baking, preserves, sheaves of grain, threshed grain, roots and vegetables, woodwork, metal-work, leather craft, shell craft, figurines, relic or antique class, home labor saving devices, stamp collections, and the many school classes.

The first day's program, includes the showing of exhibits, the parade at noon, the pet parade, pony and livestock show, fall fashion show and tea, a fair supper, old-time dancing at the I.O.O.F. hall and modern dancing at the Armories as well as other entertainment.

Tuesday's program again includes the showing of exhibits and will feature an electrical field day, showing productive uses of electricity on the farm and the proper types of equipment for various uses. There will be a completely different fall fashion show and tea and dancing at night in both halls, with the square dance competition in the I.O.O.F. hall. The commercial displays in the skating arena, which attracted much favorable comment last year, will again be a feature of the fair.

Entry forms and additional information are contained in the booklet, of which over 1800 have now been distributed throughout the county. Additional copies of the County Fair Program and Contest List are available at the Advocate office and may be had by writing or calling for them.

Three Mill Increase Necessary

County Tax Rates For 1952 Set at 39 Mills

The County Councillors at their regular meeting held on Friday, April 18, set the 1952 tax rate for the County at 39 mills, which is an increase of 3 mills over the 1951 rate. The rate for ordinary County services is 16 mills; school 19 mills and hospital 4 mills; a special levy of 5 mills on the assessment in the Little Bow Municipal Hospital District was authorized to cover the Municipal Doctor contract in that area.

Last year's tax rates were 16 mills for School purposes, 15 mills for municipal and varying rates of from 3 to 6 mills for hospital purposes.

According to recent amendments to the County Act, it is now mandatory for the County to levy a uniform rate to cover hospital requisitions regardless of the amount of requisition from the various hospital districts, which are included in the County. In setting this year's tax rate the Councillors approved a budget which provides an expenditure of $200,000.00 on public works, $298,211.29 for schools; general government and administration, $35,675.00; protection of persons and property, (including an appropriation of $1,000.00 for Civil Defence and $6,000.00 for an Agricultural Service, Board), $8,000.00 in total; health and hospital services, $55,818.58; social welfare (including grants), $5,100.00; debt charges, interest and debenture payments, $15,295.13; capital payments from revenue, $32,000.00 and discount on current taxes $16,000.00. The budget provides for an expected surplus of approximately $19,000.00. It is expected that the government grants in 1952 will be approximately the same as they were in 1951, at roughly $210,000.

Earn Three Mill Subsidy

The Municipal Assistance Act which provides tax reduction subsidy grants to municipal districts which reduce their taxes 3 mills was amended this year to allow a 10.78 increase in the mill rate. The increase of 3 mills this year is well within the 10.78 per cent increase and the County will again earn the 3 mill reduction subsidy. Total taxes to be levied in the County this year will amount to approximately $422,000.00. The Council is again authorizing the usual 5 per cent discount for early payment of taxes, on or before June 30th and it is expected that tax notices will be in the mail prior to June 1st.

Buy Repair Shop Equipment

The Public Works program is $25,000.00 greater than it was in 1951. The Council passed a By-law authorizing the purchase of all the tools and equipment including service trucks of Chester Rea for the sum of $16,000.00 and are negotiating to purchase the garage property for the sum of $3,000.00. Owing to the fact that the County has now a great deal of road building machinery which is constantly in need of repair, the Councillors felt that it was necessary to have a repair shop equipped to do the work. It was felt that a considerable saving could be effected by having the work done by County employees. Mr. Rea has been employed by the County as repair foreman and will have charge of the maintenance of the machinery. A number of delegations interviewed the Council in respect to road conditions and washouts and were promised as much assistance as possible.

No Change in Assessment
Mr. P. M. Patterson, Assessor, discussed with the Councillors the matter of adjusting the assessment of the County, and a motion was passed authorizing Mr. Patterson to review the assessments in various areas and make a report to the Council at a later date. There will be no changes in assessment for this year.

The Council approved the action of the School Committee in recommending the acceptance of the Oland Construction Company Limited tender on the construction of the new schools at Carmangay, Champion and Milo at a fixed fee price of $17,000.00 plus cost of material and labor.

Highways Minister To Speak Here

Social Credit Nominating Convention Here May 7

Fourteen members of the executive of the Little Bow Social Credit Association held a successful meeting in Vulcan on Monday evening, April 21, to make arrangements for a nominating convention to be held in the I.O.O.F. hall, Vulcan, at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, May 7.

It was decided that only those who are members in good standing of the Social Credit League will be eligible to take part in the business and voting at this convention.

Following the convention, a public meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the I.O.O.F. hall when the speakers will be Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways and Telephones, and Rev. Peter Dawson. This meeting will be open to the public.

Attending the executive meeting on Monday were members from every part of the constituency, including Glen House of Arrowwood, A. J. Miller of Vulcan, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hobbs of Barons, S. Henrickson of Armada, Ed Root of Lomond, Gus Johnk of Milo, Robert Beacom of Mossleigh, Mrs. D. O. Jantzie of Vulcan, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Burns of Carmangay, Mr. Andrews and Mr. Kurl of Barons, and Rev. Peter Dawson, M.L.A. of Champion.

DENT-PROOF CARS

(Winnipeg Free Press)
An automobile with a plastic body, dent-proof, rustproof and stronger than steel, was displayed in Philadelphia recently. The body moulded in one piece of polyester plastic is sandwiched with glass fiber and it has been given some pretty stiff tests.

A bump which would give an ordinary car a crumpled fender leaves the plastic car unscathed. The 2-inch thick plastic simply springs back into its proper contours. The car is not indestructible though. In one test it was

Services Held For Darrell Ruark

Death occurred in Vulcan Hospital on Easter Sunday morning of Darrell Roger Ruark, beloved 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Ruark of Vulcan. He had been ill only two days.

Born in Vulcan, April 23, 1949, he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ruark; three small sisters, Edna, Lynn and Helen; his grandparents, Mrs. Christine Smith of Rolling Hills and Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of Okotoks; and his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen House of Arrowwood.

Funeral services were held in Vulcan Church of Christ at 1:30 Thursday afternoon with Rev. J. S. Clarke officiating. Pallbearers were all uncles of the small boy, Glen Olson of DeWinton, Archie Ruark of High River, Bud Crick of Vulcan and Ray Howerton of Calgary. Interment was made in Vulcan cemetery.

Out-of-town relatives attending included, Mrs. Christine Smith of Rolling Hills; Mrs. John Olson of Okotoks; Mr. and Mrs. Glen House of Arrowwood; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howerton of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Congdon of Heister; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ruark and David of High River; Miss Edith Olson of Cremona; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hodge of High River; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Olson of DeWinton; Mr. and Mrs. Forest C. House of Arrowwood.

driven against a tree trunk at 25 miles an hour and the result was a 14 inch crack (in the car). But with a little glass fiber and plastic the repairman had it patched up as good as new in one hour.

It may be a bit early yet for motorists to start placing orders for plastic cars but the possibility are pleasant to contemplate.

Should Be Hard-surfaced

The Advocate has consistently urged the hard-surfacing of Highways 23 and 24 as an alternate surfaced route to Calgary from the south. The past few years the government has had a standard excuse—that priority is being given the surfacing of east-west routes in the province.

We haven't the data on the volume of traffic on east-west routes as compared to the number of vehicles using the north and south route but the figures might prove interesting. Certainly there is a large volume of traffic entering the province from the south and is eventually channelled onto No. 2 highway going north.

The need for an alternate hard-surfaced route to Calgary is becoming more apparent each year. The excessive volume of truck traffic on No. 2 highway must certainly have been a factor in the breaking-up of the highway between High River and Calgary. An alternate hard-surfaced route would ease the burden and this fact alone should warrant steps being taken for the immediate hard-surfacing of Highways 23 and 24 from Monarch to Calgary.

When the Minister of Highways visits Vulcan in May we hope he will have something definite to say on the matter.

Profession or Labor Union?

The Alberta teachers are in quite a dither. They have a grievance, and a very serious one. Their salary schedules are out of line with comparative industries. On top of this, the masses of the teachers are very poorly advised. On the one hand they have a group clamoring for professional status. On the other hand they have a group demanding labor union strike action. The feud is growing very bitter and the understanding between the teachers and the public is steadily growing worse. In the present fiscal set-up of the country, and this holds pretty well all across Canada, the new salary schedules cannot be met from property tax increases. The extra money must come from provincial and federal grants. Then again, we do not see how professional status can be given to anything but the senior teachers with special qualifications. The girl of 18 who graduates from Grade XII and takes a single year of teacher training can hardly qualify as a professional, yet the turn-over in this category is so great that the average teaching life in Alberta is little more than five years. Any move to eliminate these quick turn-over teachers would be met by strenuous opposition . . . and rightly so. Too bad that the Provincial Department of Education, the Alberta Teachers Association and the Alberta Teachers' Association can't get in a closed room and solve this problem without so much bitterness being spread before the public in general. —Camrose Canadian.

Gay Plumage

Among birds the male of the species is usually the glamor boy adorned with plumage far more brightly hued than the more sober-toned female.

Once this was the case with humans too. Until England's civil war when King Charles I was beheaded, men wore clothes that had the rainbow faded. Cromwell and his Puritan friends made it unlawful for men to wear colors other than black and dark brown. Through the centuries since, men have never succeeded in throwing off the influence of the solemn-minded Puritans and have so cheerfully worn drab-colored clothes.

Of late years there seems to have been something of a revolt. The war, when so many men of the country were for years garbed in khaki, blue or grey, may be partly responsible. Anyway ties and socks have been getting brighter and bolder; sports clothing has been running the gamut of gay hues. Not so many years ago no man working in a big city office would dare appear in anything but a dark blue suit, a white shirt, black tie and probably a bowler. Today anything goes.

Certainly the trend in men's clothing is toward bolder, brighter colors and some day in the not too distant future, man may be the gay bird of the human species. There is little likelihood of men ever returning to the silks and satins and laces of a few centuries ago but today's brighter colors in clothes indicate a revolt against drabness, probably an unconscious one. Certainly the movement is in the right direction for anything that adds a note of cheerfulness to the frightened world we live in is not out of place.

Stubble Burning is Dangerous

Nearly every spring there are fields cleared of stubble and trash by setting fire to them. This is a very wasteful and dangerous practice. This spring, most stubble fields have a heavy covering of stubble and trash. The tendency to remove this protecting and soil building material by fire may be greater than ever. Before setting fire to this valuable material, every effort should be made to handle it by other means.

The oscillating harrow is a valuable implement for scattering straw, and there are, no doubt, many fields where it can be used to advantage for this purpose. The Lethbridge Experimental Station reports that the trash clearance of standard double or single disc drills is greater than many operators realize. The trash and stubble resulting from spring wheat yields of up to 40 bushels per acre have been successfully handled by preparing the seed bed with a one-way disc. The use of a packer ahead of a drill increases the traction for the disc furrow opener. Several farmers report that the large discer type implement equipped with a seeder attachment will do a satisfactory job of seeding through heavy trash and stubble.

The use of trash cover and strip farming practices have proven their worth in southern Alberta agriculture for many years. These practices are still as valuable and essential as they ever were. Last year was extremely wet, this year may be just the opposite.

Besides protecting the soil from wind erosion, increasing its moisture efficiency, straw contains a considerable amount of plant food. 1500 pounds of straw and stubble per acre supplies as much nitrogen as 73 pounds of 11-48-0 or 50 pounds of 16-20-0.

Teachers Convene at Calgary; Will Support Strike Action

The Alberta Teachers' Association at the annual general meeting held in Calgary last week endorsed strike action on part of member locals by setting up a special fund out of which payments will be made to strikers. The delegates passed with only two dissenting votes a resolution to set up a "special emergency" fund to provide striking teachers up to 75 percent of salaries.

Eric C. Ansley stated that approximately $77,000 could be made available immediately for the fund and that the fund would be supplemented by contributions of $1 a week per teacher during the strike and for as long as deemed necessary. This provision was made in one section of the resolution.

Earlier in the convention, Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education, stated that before teachers consider strike action they will have to decide whether they wish to retain professional status or whether they should be defined as a trade union. He stated that the time is approaching when the decision will have to be made as they cannot continue to enjoy the privileges of a profession, yet employ trade union methods.

He warned that if teacher disputes cannot be settled amicably the alternative would be the setting up a provincial board exclusive of teachers and trustees, whose decisions would be binding. A resolution seeking a minimum basic salary of $2,000 was passed unanimously. Other resolutions requesting more teacher participation in curriculum planning and improved teacher qualifications and status were also passed. Steps

History Of Farm Electrification In Alberta

It is impossible to say accurately just when farm electrification first started in Alberta, but we know it was first provided by small individual lighting plants. While there have been a number of makes on the market, we believe the early pioneering was done with Delco light plants. Over 30 years ago, salesmen hauled Delco and other lighting plants all over Alberta in their cars to make demonstrations at farms and cross-road stores.

There is still a definite place in farm electrification for individual isolated plants today. Many farms in Alberta are so situated that it is virtually impossible, or at least not economically feasible, to bring central station service to them. Here consideration must be given not only to the prohibitive first cost of long lines, but also to the high maintenance costs and depreciation charges. This would make the rate for power so expensive that most farmers could not afford to use the service.

Small lighting plants, supplemented wherever possible with wind chargers, will provide quite economical service for lighting and the operation of household appliances. Many of them are still being installed every year.

Until about 25 years ago most cities, towns and villages where electric service was available received their service from local plants. There were relatively few transmission lines and consequently any farmer wishing electric service had either to build a line himself from a city, town or village, if he lived near one, or obtain his service by means of his own generating plant.

In many of the towns and villages service was provided only on a part time basis. The majority of them had service during the evening hours from dusk until 12 or 1 o'clock at night. In some of the towns service was also provided on Monday mornings for washing and Tuesday afternoons for ironing. However, it was some kind of service and very much appreciated, though only relatively few people had electric washing machines or electric irons.

Without vision there can be no progress. Power Company Engineers had a vision of providing central station electric service for as much of Alberta as possible. Their vision included the possibility of farm electrification.

In 1926 Calgary Power started to branch out to rural Alberta from Calgary, where it supplied a good part of the city's electric needs from plants on the Bow River. The first of such lines was constructed from Calgary to High River. In 1927 this line was extended towards Lethbridge and between then and 1931 lines were constructed which covered Alberta from Milk River in the South to Westlock in the North, with lateral lines East to Macklin, Saskatchewan. Wainwright, Bassano, Taber, West to Pincher Creek and later to Rocky Mountain House and Nordegg.

With transmission lines spread almost completely over the more thickly populated areas of Alberta it was thought that farm electrification would develop quite rapidly. With this thought in mind, Calgary Power constructed the first comprehensive farm electrification area in the province. This was in the vicinity of the Vulcan, Ensign and Brant area. The experiment proved to be a failure. At least, the enthusiasm of the farmers supplied was much less than was expected.

There have been many theories advanced as to why rural electrification did not develop along with, and at the same time as the original transmission lines construction. One theory was that the costs were too high, but that is not true. Many schemes to encourage farm electrification were tried and individual farmers were offered service for a total construction cost of less than $100.00, but only a few accepted the offer. It is now generally felt that farmers were not ready to accept the benefits of electric service because they did not realize how electric service could increase farm production. Consumer demand, like public opinion, must lead the way.

Over the next ten years many promotional schemes were tried to encourage farmers to take service and some did, but the majority were not electrically minded and could not be persuaded. Before the war, although Calgary Power had approximately 2,500 miles of transmission line in operation, less than 400 farmers had been persuaded to take service. The same condition extended all over Canada and especially in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

In the latter period of the war a great emphasis was laid on peak production of agricultural products. Because of the shortage of manpower for farm help, the many tasks which could be done by electrical motors and appliances became more and more apparent to an increasing number of farmers, who wished to obtain the labor-saving advantages of electric service.

In all plans for reconstruction programs after the war, farm electrification had high priority on every list. Power companies realized this and made plans to be put into effect as soon as materials and manpower were available; but there were many problems to be faced.

In approaching the problem of farm electrification in Alberta on a wide scale, it immediately became apparent that some fact-finding investigations would have to be carried out. To do this power companies sent representatives to the United States to observe at first hand the work being carried out there by Rural Electrification Co-operative Associations. Plans and developments in other parts of Canada were also studied. From these observations and the facts revealed in various reports, it was decided a survey would have to be made to determine the extent of farm electrification which could be carried out in Alberta and that might be considered economically feasible.

In 1943 Andrew Stewart, now President of the University of Alberta, was engaged by the Provincial Government to make a report to the Research Council of Alberta on the possibilities of rural electrification in this province. He made a very comprehensive study of this subject with the help of members of various departments of the Government, members of the engineering staffs of the power companies and others.

In conjunction with this study, it was decided by the Power Companies that experimental rural electrification areas should be developed in order to obtain first-hand information on what results might be obtained under conditions as they existed in Alberta. The decision to develop experimental areas was a wise one, and much necessary information was obtained. Such things as the possible scope of a long-time program, and the cost thereof, was tentatively determined. The probable number of farmers per mile of line from the sample areas was more or less ascertained, and it was felt that in the ten-year period possibly 30,000 farms in Alberta could be electrified. The most economical type of line, the voltage, and design of other equipment was decided upon.

In the first instance a low customer contribution was collected from the farmers in the experimental areas, and the power companies retained ownership of all the lines, including the farmers' tap lines. This was done with a low first charge to the farmers in order that as large a number of farmers as possible, in the areas covered, could be induced to take the service. In adopting this method a fair over-all picture could be obtained.

After the experimental areas were completed and a study made, it appeared that the most feasible and economically-sound way to carry out rural electrification in Alberta was on a co-operative basis. Under this method, farmer-owned Rural Electrification Co-operative Associations finance and own all the lines including the farmers' tap lines and the step-down substations at the point of connection with the main transmission lines owned by the power companies, which radiate over the province from the power plants.

The soundness of the decision to adopt this method has now been conclusively proven. Today more than 140 individual Rural Electrification Co-operative Associations have been completed, bringing service to more than 14,000 farms in the province. In addition, more than 100 other associations are either being constructed or proposed for construction. The construction program to take care of these applications will demand all the material and manpower which is available for the next year or two. When these new areas are completed, several thousand more farms will be electrified.

Farm electrification represents one of the largest and most effective jobs of co-operative effort ever carried out in the province. Considering the fact that only a handful of farmers had rural electrification in 1943, the advancement which has been made in less than ten years is really outstanding—an accomplishment which all those—the farmers, the Government and the power companies—who had a part in this work, can be justly proud.

Farmers in the Co-operatives give their whole-hearted support to the projects. This tends to reduce the cost, something which could not be achieved if the projects were carried out either by the power companies alone, or by the government alone.

Miss Arlene Booth of Lomond was the accompanying pianist.

COAL OIL HAZARD
Canada still has many homes where coal oil is used in lamps or heaters. In many homes there are coal or wood ranges and open grates. Any one of these may be fire hazards unless great care is observed. Open grates should always be protected by fireguards to prevent sparks from flying. Coal oil lamps should never be placed where flimsy curtains can be wafted over the flame. Coal oil should never be poured onto a fire to make it burn. If the fire is stubborn to light, dip small pieces of stick into the oil and place them among the kindling before a match is applied. Bits of wax paper are all helpful in starting a difficult fire without the flareup danger of coal oil poured onto the kindling.

QUALITY SEED is the first step in assuring a good crop. Naturally, other factors are important, but without seed that is high in germination, free of weeds, and the ability to produce bred into it, the crop will be lower in yield and grade than you have a right to expect.

Due to the bad weather last fall, you would be well advised to check your seed supply both for germination and moisture, more carefully than ever before.
